IACAT Partnerships Research

The Inter-Agency Council Against Trafficking intensifies fight against human trafficking through responsible media partnership with KBP

The Inter-Agency Council Against Trafficking (IACAT) and the International Justice Mission (IJM) conducted an Anti-Trafficking in Persons Conference for Media Practitioners. The conference was held at the Richmonde Hotel, Ortigas Center, Pasig City.

IJM Celebrates World Day Against Trafficking 2021 by Advancing the Global Fight Against Online Sexual Exploitation of Children

IJM Philippines commissioned the conduct of literature reviews and research to address the issues and gaps in the Philippine case management system. Three research papers will be launched via an online event for those in the caring and helping industry. Working groups to lead actions are hoped to be formed from that event.

Additionally, IJM Philippines leads a two-part webinar series, "Strengthening the Commitment Against Online Exploitation of Children" discusses an overview of the Philippine model in combating the crime, the trauma-informed approach in handling its survivors, the legal landscape of the crime in the country, and the global response to address it.

This webinar is in partnership with the Integrated Bar of the Philippines, IBP CalMaNa Chapter, and IBP Zambales Chapter. Part 2 of the webinar will be on July 31 and is open to all lawyers, legal aid clerks, law students, and other members of the legal community.

U.S. and Philippines Partner to Train Prosecutors and Investigators on Countering Trafficking in Persons at Airports

The U.S. Embassy in the Philippines has partnered to train 21 NAIA and Clark-based investigators and 20 Pampanga-based prosecutors in investigating and prosecuting trafficking in persons (TIP). The training focused on improving airport-based investigations, working with rescued TIP victims in airports, and effectively examining victim witnesses in court.

The U.S. Embassy, through OPDAT, is working with Philippine partners to enhance justice sector capabilities with training for judges, prosecutors, law enforcement officials, and other government agencies on combating various transnational crimes.

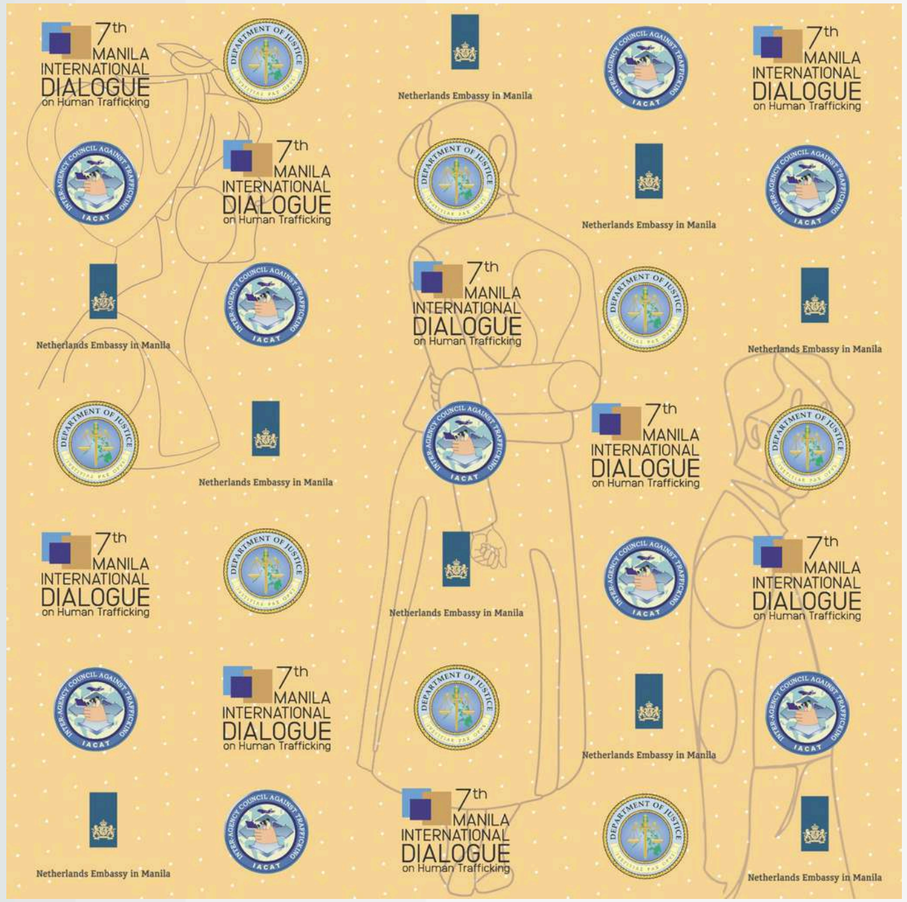

2018 IACAT Advocacy Run: "Run Free from Modern-Day Slavery" is an Advocacy Run organized by the Inter-Agency Council Against Trafficking (IACAT) as part of the weeklong observation of the International Day Against Trafficking (IDAT).

International Day Against Trafficking (IACAT) is celebrated every year on December 12, and aims to increase public awareness against Trafficked in Persons (TIP). Through the advocacy run, IACAT aims to call for the renewal of commitment against human trafficking. As of the current, many Filipinos are still in enslavement, or in slave-like conditions.

About 2,000 advocates will run from IACAT Agencies and various NGOs. The event will take place at the Cultural Center of the Philippines (CCP) Complex in Pasay. "Run Free from Modern-Day Slavery" is hosted by the Department of Justice (DOJ).
